

Cordillera Motorcycle Association member Jim Norris, reflected in his motorcycle's rear view mirror, delivers school supplies to students at June Creek Elementary School Wednesday. Avery Cunliffe photo.

Moms thank Cordillera Motorcycle Club

By Beth Potter
Mountaineer Staff Writer

Mark Truitt asked the 5-year-old Avon Elementary student on the front seat of his motorcycle if he wanted to drive.

"I'm only 5!" the boy responded.

Truitt, a Cordillera Motorcycle Association member, and his friends were at Avon Elementary School and at June Creek Elementary on Wednesday to hand out backpacks to the kids. Everyone involved seemed to be having a blast.

The kids loved sitting on the cycles, revving the engines and honking the horns with the owners' help, Truitt said. He joked that the kindergartners and first-graders were chosen to receive supplies because the older students would want to drive the motor-

[See BIKERS, page 18]